

Grumeti Tented Camp Serengeti

Once a research camp over in the Western Corridor of the Serengeti, this is one of CCAfrica's oldest lodges.

With ten luxury tents set along the banks of the Grumeti River, this is a beautiful and out of the way camp that excels from around June through until the end of July when the Great Migration passes through the Western Corridor of the Serengeti. Grumeti River Camp is beautifully crafted in wood, stone and canvas to blend with its bush surroundings.

The ten vast double tents have been specifically designed to create a light and airy atmosphere, and are each completed with wooden floorboards, dinky wooden bathrooms and wide, hand built beds and fantastic views of the hippo filled Grumeti River. Each of Grumeti's tents are set in private surroundings in the bush, a short walk along pathways, lit by kerosene lamps, to the dining room.

The communal areas are again made in wood and stone and this includes the dining area which has a central open fire and outdoor pizza oven to incite a healthy appetite and spend nights under the Serengeti skies. Nearby, the pool is cool and clear and well-tended, and the sounds from the local hippo pool fill the air at night.

- Just 10 luxurious tents.
- Central swimming pool.
- Artisan style.
- Secluded part of Serengeti.
- Superb location for Migration.

Our View

As a CCA property, Grumeti Tented Camp has all the high standards that we have come to expect from them.

Safaris in the Serengeti in June and July are outrageously good and Grumeti River Camp rightly holds place as one of the best camps in the Serengeti.

The only drawback is that recently we think that the tents have become a bit worn and we think the camp could do with a slight refurbishment.
