

Kirawira Camp Serengeti

This is an extraordinarily fine permanent tented camp, elegantly furnished throughout in the old 1920s safari style, with Victorian antiques (or reproductions), including studded leather folding wardrobes and polished brass taps and trimmings.

The lavishly tented dining area at Kirawira is laid out across dark polished teak floorboards covered with rich woven rugs and surrounded by fine writing desks and 1920s safari memorabilia.

Guests enjoy a la carte meals served on a fine array of china and silver. Its hilltop position gives fabulous views across mile upon mile of the Serengeti bush all around.

The Serena connection is only really apparent at the swimming pool, for which they excel in providing individual and inviting designs, with water features and private enclaves with phenomenal views that really make the most of the surroundings.

Kirawira has captured a nostalgic, romantic atmosphere, most enjoyable as the sun sets and its many lamps twinkle to life in the African night. The camp is landscaped throughout to provide easy pathways between the 25 tents, even in the dark.

There are only two locations within the Serengeti where hot air balloon is possible, Kirawira lies within one of these regions, the Western Corridor.

- Hot air ballooning possible.
- Family friendly.
- 25 luxurious en-suite tents.
- Located in the Western Corridor of the Serengeti.
- A good sized and well positioned swimming pool.

Our View

As far as tented camps go, Kirawira is slightly larger than most, but it also offers a higher level of opulence than its peers.

Set in the Western corridor region of the Serengeti, all of the tents have spectacular views out over the plains, particularly in June and July when the Migration makes its way past.

So if you would like to finish your Northern Circuit with something slightly special then Kirawira might well be a good option, especially if it happens to coincide with the great Serengeti migration.
