

Swala Camp Tarangire

Swala is situated in a copse of majestic acacia trees, nestled in a remote pocket of Tarangire National Park. This picturesque safari hideaway is hidden in the southwestern corner of Tarangire National Park, affording guests private game viewing, wilderness luxury, and a privileged glimpse of an Africa, untrammelled by tourism.

Swala's nine private, permanent tents feature en-suite bathrooms with showers, complemented by fittings and fixtures crafted from local materials to mirror the understated elegance of the time-honored safari style. The elevated terraces on the tents are appointed towards the waterhole that attracts wildlife year-round to ensure that your African wildlife experiences do not finish when you leave your vehicle.

Meals are taken in the comfortable dining tent, with full silver service, Pan-African cuisine and fine wines adding to the "country house under canvas" ambience. Swala's accomplished hosts, personal tent attendants, safari guides and Masai askaris that accompany you to your tent at night enhance your stay with their own personalized African affability, professionalism and knowledge.

With a growing hand in local conservation, guests at Swala are offered the privileged opportunity to learn more about these projects and become involved as part of their stay.

- Located in a secluded region of Tarangire.
- 9 large and large and luxurious en-suite tents, each with their own personal butler.
- Cultural interaction.

Our View

Swala Tented Camp is definitely one of the best camps in Tarangire, the levels of service and general standards being exceptionally high.

Being inside the park it does hold the advantage over some of the other camps that rest just outside the park as they have instant access to the mighty herds of elephant that visit and reside in the park. This camp is definitely one of the top three and warrants at least a couple of nights!
